

Arab Insight: Bringing Middle East Perspectives to Washington

While a plethora of Westerners voicing their opinions on issues in the Middle East, there is rarely a chance to hear the take from informed Arab experts. Arab Insight, truly a first of its kind scholarly journal, is bringing Middle Eastern perspectives on politics, religion, and human rights in the Arab world directly to Washington.

Arab Insight's premiere issue was delivered to thousands of influential persons in the Washington area, including high-level diplomats, researchers, members of Congress and members of the press.

“Arab Insight offers an unprecedented opportunity to connect with a new generation of Arab thinkers. There is no other journal that comes close.”

-- Jon Alterman, Senior Fellow and Director, Middle East Program, Center for Strategic and International Studies
